SIGNS GO UP THREE MONTHS AHEAD

(Courier Photo)

Exactly three months from today the finest curlers in Canada will be within hours of completing a long, hectic season, which has led right to top, Canada's premier curling event, the Macdonald's Brier. On March 8, the final day of the five-day Brier, the Canadian curling champion will be named. Harold Long, chairman of the Kelowna Brier Committee, points to a sign advertising the event. Kelowna is the smallest Canadian city ever to host the Brier. The signs, located at both city entrances, were paid for jointly by the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce and the Brier committee and were erected Tuesday by city crews.

Opposition Hits Thrice At Broadcasting Policy

OTTAWA (CP) — Opposition speakers Tuesday continued a three-pronged attack on the government's broadcasting policy, the CBC and State Secretary Judy LaMarsh as debate on the broadcasting bill went through its fourth day.

Prolonged discussion of the bill to establish a new Canadian Radio Commission to replace the present Board of Broadcast Governors and set out the responsibilities of both private broadcasters and the CBC, has delayed debate on a bill to limit capital punishment.

Veteran NDP member Stanley Knowles (Winnipeg North-Centre) said the debate on second reading would probably have ended Friday if it had not been "muddled," by Miss LaMarsh's statement about "rotten management" in some parts of the CBC.

VOTE ON AMENDMENT
Bryce Mackenzie (L.-Verdun) asked the opposition for criticizing the secretary of state while at the same time levelling their own criticism at the publicly-owned network.

He found an ally in L. R. Sherman (P.C.—Winnipeg South), a former broadcaster, who said Miss LaMarsh had only repeated what "thousands of concerned Canadians have been saying for years."

Before the House can give the bill second reading and pass it to the broadcasting committee for detailed study, MPs will have to vote on an amendment moved by M. T. McCutcheon (PC—Lambton-Kent) which in effect would kill the bill.

The Liberals can count on New Democrat support in defeating the amendment, which it passed, would send the bill to committee without second reading approval in principle.

An NDP motion to set aside the regular Commons business Tuesday in favor of an emergency debate on railway layoffs gained strong Conservative and

TOWNHOUSE PLANS:

Kelowna Upset Licence Granted

Kelowna officials were surprised and upset today to learn a permit has been granted Townhouse Developments to discharge treated sewage into Okanagan Lake.

The Kelowna development group, headed by Irwin Schellenberg, proposes to construct a 28-suite, two-storey apartment building on a one and one-half acre peninsula near Watt Road. The permit, dated Nov. 2, was issued by the director of pollution control, C. J. Keenan, Victoria, not the Pollution Control Board. Both have the authority to issue permits.

The permit was granted in spite of opposition from city, chamber and health officials, local residents and the Okanagan Watershed Pollution Control Council.

Only one person in Kelowna was aware today the permit had been granted, not even Mr. Schellenberg had been notified.

The word came to Kelowna lawyer Brian Weddell who had been hired by 20 property owners near the proposed site to act on their behalf and register an objection to the application for a permit.

A letter from C. J. Keenan to Mr. Weddell said in part: "In adjudicating the application your objection was duly considered but in view of the works proposed to control pollution the permit was granted."

Mr. Weddell said today he will appeal Mr. Keenan's decision to the Pollution Control Board. "The matter may become a test case," said Mayor R. F. Parkinson today. The mayor

Dr. D. A. Clarke, medical health officer for the South Okanagan Health Unit area, said his permission is still required before a building permit can be issued. He said he was "amazed" the permit was issued.

Fire Wrecks Oilmen's Camp In Northwestern Alberta

RAINBOW LAKE, Alta. (CP) — Flames flickered in an acre of tangled wreckage today in the heart of the work camp in this northwestern Alberta oil-field community.

Through the night thudding of small explosions punctuated the stillness in the ruins of a flash fire which swept through about 40 per cent of the camp.

No one was seriously injured in the blaze, although about 200 men poured 38,000 gallons of precious water from the town reservoir on it. Water was hauled by truck to the community before the reservoir was filled.

Destroyed in less than an hour were 45 trailers, including accommodation for 200 men, laundries, a laundry supply, a shop trailer, three poolrooms, including the post office in one of them and a number of offices.

Cause of the blaze has not been determined, but Vic Rudy, the town's sole employee, said:

"Somebody didn't know how to handle an oil heater. We had some oil line breaks under the plywood corridors connecting the trailers last week and the ground had oil in it."

Mr. Rudy was superintendent for J. D. Frazer construction when the camp was built in 1965.

John Ireland, an employee of Canus Camp Services Limited who run the camp for Banff Oil Company, was in the Canus office which was destroyed when the fire broke out.

He said a man he knew only by sight came running to tell him of a fire. He investigated and by the time he returned to a telephone 150 feet away, "it was breaking out all over the camp."

"This is the strange thing about it. It was in front of us, behind us, all around us."

During the fire, Mr. Rudy said soft drinks and hunting ammunition belonging to the workers exploded.

Ottawa Crowds Boo Russians And Throw Eggs, Rocks, Paint

OTTAWA (CP) — Anti-Communist demonstrators thronged the gates of the Russian embassy Tuesday night tossing eggs, stones, paint and insults.

Diplomats, politicians and their wives were jeered and booed by the crowd of about 350 who arrived for a two-hour reception marking the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

A bottle of red paint hit the embassy steps and splattered the entrance. Three windows were broken by flying objects. Police arrested five persons and charged them with creating a disturbance.

Russian Ambassador Ivan F. Shpreckko, who had feared trouble, said the demonstrators were war criminals and German fascists.

But reports found most of the placard-carrying group to be younger than middle age. There were many teenagers and a number of boys.

The demonstrators were mainly from the Ukraine and the Baltic states, but a scattering of others identified themselves as former citizens of Hungary, Poland, Rumania and Czechoslovakia.

Auto Workers Hit Chrysler

DETROIT (AP) — More than 24,000 Chrysler Corp. workers in the U.S. jumped the gun on a strike deadline today, closing down nearly a quarter of the No. 3 auto-maker's operations.

The walkouts at eight plants came as bargainers for the company and the United Auto Workers union passed the 24-hour mark in a marathon attempt to write a new three-year contract before the deadline of midnight tonight.

There were no indications from the bargaining table as to what progress had been made in the session that started at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Workless Total Leaps Sharply

Unemployment Rate In B.C. At Highest Figure In Years

OTTAWA (CP) — Unemployment showed "an unusually large increase" between September and October jumping to 254,000 at mid-October from 219,000 the previous month and 195,000 a year earlier, a joint federal report said today.

After adjustments to discount seasonal factors, the national unemployment rate was 4.7 per cent in October compared with 4.1 per cent in September and 3.7 in October of 1966. Two years ago this rate was 2.4 per cent.

The unadjusted rate varied regionally from a high of 5.1 per cent in British Columbia to a low of 1.5 per cent on the Prairies. It was 4.1 per cent for the Atlantic region, 2.6 in Ontario and 4.4 in Quebec.

TOPS REGIONAL FIGURES
It was the first time in years that B.C.'s jobless rate has topped the regional breakdown. In September the B.C. rate was 3.5 per cent and was exceeded by the Quebec and Atlantic figures.

The report noted that about half the drop in total employment between September and October was among persons under 25, reflecting the reopening of university courses.

A decline of 32,000 in farm jobs, to 603,000 at mid-October, was about normal for the period.

The rise in unemployment was mainly among men 25 and over. Temporary layoffs accounted for 22,000 jobless in October.

Of the total out of work, 190,000 had been seeking jobs for four months or less. Another 35,000 had been unemployed for four to six months and 39,000 for seven months or more.

The October unemployed represented 3.3 per cent of the total labor force, up from 2.8 per cent in September and 2.6 per cent in October last year.

A report by the manpower department and the Dominion Bureau of Statistics said non-farm employment, which usually increases between September and October, dropped by 42,000.

Employment in the construction industry was down 33,000 and manufacturing jobs showed a drop of 18,000, partly due to layoffs in the auto industry resulting from the Ford strike in the United States.

Comparing October with the same month last year, the labor force was up 172,000 but employment rose by only 113,000, adding another 59,000 to the ranks of unemployed.

Posties Defy Union's Order And Stay Off Job In Ontario

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Postal employees in St. Catharines, Hamilton and Welland today defied a direct union order to return to work and remained off the job to continue a dispute that began Tuesday.

There were indications the wildest strike in the Niagara Peninsula might spread. Kingston postal workers said they supported the strikers, and in Toronto the executive of Local 1 of the Letter Carriers Union of Canada warned its members to be prepared to support the strikers.

"The fire is there if we want to turn to work," to stoke it," said the local's president, Alex Brown.

In the affected area—Burlington, Stoney Creek, Hamilton, Grimsby, Welland and St. Catharines—470 workers remained off the job. The only services available were the purchase of stamps and deposit of mail.

Some persons expecting important letters were allowed to search for them among unsorted mail in post offices.

Gail Dean, president of the St. Catharines local warned Tuesday night that his members would defy an order by their national leaders in Ottawa to return to work.

Inquest Ordered Into Death At Kingston Hospital Blaze

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP)—An inquest has been ordered into one of two deaths that occurred Tuesday during a fire at the Hotel Dieu Hospital when 125 patients were forced to evacuate the burning building.

Coroner Stewart Patterson ordered the inquest into the death of Mrs. Stella Breen, a patient whose death was attributed to smoke poisoning.

Eight-year-old Tracy Farrelly of Kingston died during the fire of head injuries suffered when struck by a car Saturday.

Dr. Patterson said the girl's brain activity had stopped before the fire broke out and she was being given oxygen to sustain her respiratory system.

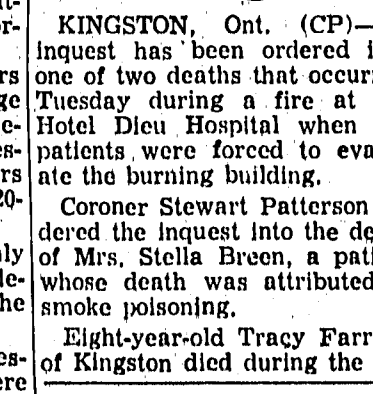

Mrs. Breen, who was in traction, was moved to a smoke-proof room for treatment of smoke poisoning, from which she later died.

B.C.'s Trade 'To U.S. Orbit'

SAN FRANCISCO (CP) — Trade Minister Lofmark of British Columbia said Tuesday he expects to see B.C. trade patterns shift away from Britain and Europe and "into the orbit of the U.S. market."

Here for a seminar on B.C.-California trade, he said in an interview that if the British "a lot falls off B.C. must look 'back and home' to the U.S."

'Ping-Pong' Match In U.S. Delays Payment To B.C.

A congressional ping-pong procedure over one Canadian boundary project continued Tuesday in Washington to delay an overdue U.S. payment to Canada on another. The Senate sought to keep alive the allocation of $875,000 for further planning of a St. John River hydro project at Dickey in northern Maine. It approved the sum again and sent it back to the House of Representatives with a plea for action, which so far has been lacking. Prospects are not bright the Senate can persuade the House to go ahead this year. This sparring has held up the entire $4,500,000,000 public works bill. This includes $12,100,000 overdue to British Columbia under the Columbia River treaty. It became due when Duncan Dam, one of three storage projects being completed by B.C. was finished. Premier Bennett of B.C. has been demanding interest but the fashioners of the Columbia River treaty made no such provision. No one apparently envisaged the U.S. becoming derelict in its payments schedule.

An RCAF helicopter Tuesday recovered the body of Robert Law, 18, of North Vancouver from a gorge where he had fallen 500 feet from Goat Mountain on Sunday. The helicopter, flown to Vancouver from the Comox Canadian Forces Base, had to fight bad weather to pick up the body from the accident scene.

A bandit fired a random shot and grabbed $1,000 from a Vancouver credit union office Tuesday morning. The raider brandished a pistol at teller Marlene Mann, in the Vancouver City Savings and Credit Union office, and told her it was a hold-up. When she said the gun looked more like a cap pistol than a real gun, he fired a shot into a nearby filing cabinet. She gave him the money.

Foreign Minister Couve de Murville presented a bleak view Tuesday of Britain's chances to enter the European Common Market. He stopped short, however, of saying France would again veto Britain's application. Couve de Murville reiterated in Paris that France "cannot object in principle" to British entry and expressed hope that it would eventually occur. But he insisted again that the present six member states — France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg — must first decide whether they really want to enlarge the Common Market.

U.S. Superior At Horse Show

NEW YORK (CP) — The U.S. equestrian team showed all-round superiority at the National Horse Show to win the Nations Cup for international team jumping.

The Americans easily beat the U.S. in the final jump-off, collecting only four faults over a difficult course.

The win was the eighth in 10 international jumping events for the U.S. at the week-long show which ends tonight at Madison Square Garden. Britain won the other two.

The Canadian equestrian team was out of it after the first two rounds with eight faults. The Americans, already the show's team champions, added 20 points through the victory to make their total 134. Britain had 58 and Canada 38. No individual points were awarded. Billy Steinkraus, the U.S. team captain, leads with 38 points and Jim Day of Oak Ridges, Ont., the Pan-American jumping champion, was tied for fifth place with 14 points.

Britain's Exchequer Keeper Defends Tight-Rein Policy

LONDON (CP) — James Callaghan, verbally sniped at in his role as chancellor of the exchequer, has vowed to persevere in the policy of keeping a tight rein on Britain's economy. To taunts from the left wing of his own Labor party as well as from the Opposition Conservatives, Callaghan told the Commons Tuesday:

"I will fight for this policy as long as I live. I therefore refuse to take any further measures of reflation in the present circumstances."

The left-wingers gave what they called cautious support to the government as a Conservative motion criticizing its economic performance was defeated 321 to 239.

No Trouble Expected From Russia On Canada's 12-Mile Fishing Limit

OTTAWA (CP) — No trouble is expected from Russia if Canada proclaims an exclusive 12-mile fishing zone on the West Coast based on a line drawn from headland to headland, informed sources say.

Officials decline to say at this point whether Canada intends to declare the waters between the Queen Charlotte Islands and the British Columbia mainland—the Hecate Strait, Dixon Entrance and Queen Charlotte Sound—as exclusive Canadian fishing territory.

But if she does, Russia is expected to make it at most a token protest.

The main reason is that Russia has declared a 12-mile territorial sea—Canada claims no more than three miles—and consequently 12-mile fishing zone.

Russia has enclosed the entire White Sea, its main port on that sea is Archangel, as territorial sea.

The Soviet Union recognizes that it has no historic fishing rights off Canada's coasts. Since 1962, two years before Canada declared its intention to proclaim a 12-mile fishing zone, Russia has respected Canada's request that its trawlers not fish the Bay of Fundy.

Canada has already proclaimed a 12-mile fishing zone on the headland-to-headland principle along the Labrador coast and the east and south shores of Newfoundland.

Negotiations are continuing with eight countries—the U.S.,

Britain, Norway, Denmark, France, Portugal, Spain and Italy—on proclamations covering the rest of Canada's coastline. These proclamations will be issued from time to time covering various coastal areas. The one covering the controversial British Columbia coast is expected to be issued in two or three months.

NEW MUSEUM SECTION OPENED

All the modern conveniences of the 19th century. The pioneer room is a new addition to the Kelowna Centennial Museum and contains articles from the 1850-1900 period in North America. The Edison phonograph dates back to 1905 and the sewing machine is more than 100 years old. Much of the furniture was loaned to the museum and manikins, like the young lady above, were donated by two Kelowna businesses. The museum is located on the Queensway.

Students Pay For Crossing Harvey

Nineteen tickets were issued for jaywalking offences during October, 17 of them to secondary school students crossing Harvey Avenue intersections during their noon hour.

Kenneth Preston, senior traffic officer, wrote in his monthly report to city council, further attention will be given the school area on Harvey.

A total of 998 offences were reported by the city's traffic officers in October, 609 of them overtime parking.

The majority of offences, 218, were committed on Queensway with only 90 on Bernard Avenue.

The traffic officer said fewer tickets were issued for cars found over-parked on Bernard Avenue, due to road repairs under way and removal of some parking signs.

Mr. Preston noted a further decrease in out-of-province vehicles in the city with some in the taking full advantage of off-street parking on Saturdays, he said.

Public parking is available Saturdays on city-owned parking lots on Queensway, Mill Street, the legion lot on Ellis Street, at the arena and on the Chapman lot opposite the fire hall.

"I feel the chamber of commerce could assist in educating the public to use these lots on a weekend, and to assist downtown firms and also help reduce the merry-go-round of vehicles looking for a parking space along Bernard Avenue and it's off streets," Mr. Preston wrote in his report.

In addition to the 609 overtime parking offences, there were 88 illegal parking offences, 47 failing to display municipal license plates and four summons issued under the Motor Vehicle Act.

City traffic officers issued 118 warning tickets and 115 courtesy and verbal warnings. During the month police received and investigated 237 complaints. Three fires were attended, three places of business found unlocked and 10 street lights out.

Liquor cases handled totalled 24 and the situation was termed satisfactory. Seven articles were reported lost, six found. Five bicycles were reported stolen and four recovered.

Prisoners' expenses and meals amounted to 414. Fines collected and turned over to the municipality amounted to $3,386. An additional $175 was collected in court as fines imposed under municipal bylaws. The sum of $75 was collected in fines and given to the federal government.

Police travelled 4,987 miles in carrying out their duties.

UFO Season Opens Again

An unidentified flying object has been spotted between Falkland and Vernon.

Glen Fong of Williams Lake was on his way to Rutland early Monday when he saw the object.

"It was a very intense white light," he said. "At first I thought it was a barn spotlight on a mountain, but I realized there wasn't a mountain in the area."

Mr. Fong first saw the UFO in Westwood. It disappeared, then reappeared between Westwood and Falkland.

"It was about 30 times the size of any star," he said, "and it zig-zagged. The light was enough to bother me while I was driving."

A passenger in the car also saw the object. Mr. Fong said it was visible from 3:15 a.m. until 4 a.m.

"At about Vernon it suddenly disappeared, and it was near the horizon," he said.

FINALLY STEADY For the first time in several weeks the level of Okanagan Lake has not dropped during a seven day period. The level Monday was 99.20 feet, exactly the same as it was one week ago. The level at the same time one year ago was 99.50 feet. The level is measured near the entrance to Kelowna's City Park.

Three Calls No Damage

The Kelowna Fire Brigade received three calls Tuesday but no damage resulted.

A fire in a garbage truck, operated by F. L. Chase, was extinguished at 10:40 a.m. in the 1400-block Richmond St. The cause of the fire was hot ashes in a collection.

At 7:20 p.m. firemen were called to 492 Doyle Ave., where smoke was coming from a light fixture. There was no fire and the cause was an overheated ballast.

A rubbish fire burning after the 6 p.m. deadline was extinguished at 9:20 p.m. in the 1300-block Richter St.

Cloudy . . .

Mostly cloudy is the forecast for the Okanagan Thursday. Winds should be light.

Young Canada Book Week Has Message For Parents

Nov. 15 to 22 is Young Canada Book Week and the Okanagan Regional Library is marking the occasion with two displays.

A display in the library itself will feature a collection of fine books for children, suitable for Christmas gifts. The display will include a list, giving the approximate books for each age group.

Caldecott and Newbery award books will comprise the second display, in the Bank of Nova Scotia window. The awards go to books judged best for children—the Caldecott award applies to young children's books while the Newbery award applies to older children's books.

Young Canada Book Week is celebrated from coast to coast, endorsed by the department of education in every province, and sponsored by 32 national organizations. Book week is a community effort to bring better books to more children.

Purposes of the national event are: to arouse interest in good books for boys and girls; to encourage reading worthwhile books—at home, at school and at the library; to make adults aware of the fine children's books available today.

Also, to remind adults of the important place good books have in a child's life; and to stress the need for good library service to boys and girls wherever they may live.

The Okanagan Regional Library has increased its service greatly with the addition of a bookmobile, or library on wheels, used to supply children and adults in outlying areas with books.

Young Canada Book Week stresses that good books can give children enjoyment and fun, knowledge, a true sense of values, understanding of themselves and others, and a widening of experience.

Aussie Singer Here Tonight

Jokes, a bit of clowning, comic songs, topical references—that's the Rolf Harris' show. The high-style entertainer will perform at the Kelowna Community Theatre today at 8:30 p.m. The show is sponsored by the Kelowna branch of the Associated Canadian Travellers.

Harris, a native of Australia, has been described as a man with an irresistible personality, the vitality of one of his native bounding "boomers", a wit that is dead-on target, a good voice and an extraordinary gift of mimicry.

At a sell-out performance in Victoria recently Harris kept the audience belting out laughter and applause, singing and all but climbing onto the stage with the Australian entertainer for two and a half hours.

The zest with which he performs his popular Three-legged Jake and Tie Me Kangaroo Down numbers, and the ad-libbing and improvisations he injects, give them that first-time impact.

Advertisements Will Be Run With Message Aimed At MLAs

Six student councils will be asked to finance an open letter to Kelowna and area MLAs concerning the Okanagan Regional College.

At a meeting of the Inter-School Student Committee Tuesday night, students decided to place the letter in newspaper advertisements. The letter could be clipped, signed and sent to the reader's MLA.

The group, made up of student council members from Elliot, Rutland, Dr. Knox and Kelowna secondary schools and the Immaculate High School, met at Immaculate. The students will ask their councils and the student council at George Pringle Secondary School to share the costs of the ads.

The letter will urge the MLA to do something about legislation governing regional colleges, to save the Okanagan Regional College.

The committee decided to run three ads Nov. 16 to 18. Six students at the meeting said they would attend a student meeting in Penticton tonight concerning the college.

Norman Walker, president of the Okanagan college, and Charles Finch, chairman of the college council, also will attend the meeting.

Vicki Elsdon, Doug Hillman and Doug Findlater of Dr. Knox secondary and Sheila Woinoski, Mary Leathley and Mike Karan of Kelowna secondary will attend the meeting.

The committee will hold their third meeting Nov. 21 at 7:30 p.m. at Immaculate.

The students first met Oct. 24 and decided "we must pressure Premier Bennett, it's the only language he understands."

One student said at the initial meeting "students have the least to lose, let's talk about this and make Bennett look bad."

"If we can get a legitimate argument going Bennett won't have any choice but to have a meeting with people who want a college and legislation changes."

College president Walker told the students at the October meeting the college attempt seemed likely to "fall on its face," because the school districts involved felt no success in sight.

A referendum last December failed to gain the necessary 50 per cent approval in the school districts which comprise the college area.

Since then little progress has been apparent and attempts to have legislation changed prompted Premier Bennett to say "Kelowna has hammered the final nail in the college coffin."

He was referring to a Kelowna city council resolution to have regional colleges removed from the Public Schools Act and to have the provincial government play a more active role financially. The resolution gained Valley-wide support when it was introduced to a meeting of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association.

Annual Firearm Warning Delivered To Area Hunters

Hunters are again being warned by police and game officials not to carry loaded firearms in their vehicles.

"In addition to charges which can be laid, the biggest danger is they will be walking around without a head," said Sgt. L. R. Crosby of the Kelowna RCMP detachment.

"There have been no accidents locally yet this year," he said, "but there have been accidents in previous years."

D. B. Stewart, conservation officer, says several charges have been laid for carrying a loaded firearm in a vehicle. The law provides a maximum $500 fine and six months in jail for the offense. "The equipment and hunting licence is seized and impounded," said Mr. Stewart.

"No bullets may be in the gun," he said. "This includes bullets in the chamber."

"We are concerned with the safety factor," he said. "A hunter who has a loaded gun in a car and sees a deer usually gets injured while trying to get out of the vehicle to shoot the animal."

"A cartridge clip may be carried in the hand, but not the gun while in a car," he added.

Ferryman Threaten To Stop

VANCOUVER (CP) — Unlicensed personnel on British Columbia government ferries Tuesday threatened a work stoppage unless the provincial cabinet approves a working agreement with Ferry Authority management.

A tentative agreement has been worked out on overtime, hours, scheduling and dues checkoff, and the new conditions cannot be implemented until they are ratified by the cabinet.

Tom Gooderham, Canadian Labor Congress regional director and spokesman for the ferry union, said efforts have failed to get a commitment from the premier's office.

CARS DAMAGED Damage was estimated at $232 in an accident on the Mountain Shadows parking lot, Highway 97, reported at 11 a.m. Tuesday. Police said the damage was to a parked car belonging to G. P. Rose, 340 Francis Ave. The name of the driver of the other car involved was not released pending further investigation.

THE VALLEY SCENE

A half-hour color film, Ottawa-fornia and Utah, and later on to Hull Brier—1967, is available for booking by Kelowna service clubs or interested persons. The film, a synopsis of the 1967 Canadian curling championship, may be obtained through the film librarian at the Okanagan Regional Library. The 1968 Brier will be held in Kelowna, March 4 to 8.

The Kelowna Camera Club will hold its third meeting of the year today at 8 p.m. in the board room of the Okanagan Regional Library on Queensway.

Ever wonder why Mayor R. F. Parkinson has 113 on his licence plate? Meeting a man at a Boxing Day party in Victoria was the start. "He worked in the licence bureau and I asked him if there was a number I could get and keep," said the mayor. "He told me 113 was his. That was seven years ago."

Spa Mines Ltd. has completed a $100,000 slusher program of exploration work in the Brenda Lake area west of Peachland.

Okanagan produced products are world-known and now another Kelowna product, made by Bartlett's Candies, is being shipped outside of Canada for the first time. Apple and apricot delights will be shipped to California and junior symphony.

Other U.S. coast points. The Kelowna Community Theatre, Kelowna, has a mail-order service that will be able to supply 25 countries requesting the candy, even behind the iron curtain.

The company's silver-copper property consists of 150 claims, reached by an all-weather access road and located eight miles from the Kettle Valley railroad line.

Father Aquinas Thomas, president of Notre Dame University in Nelson, will speak at St. Joseph's Hall Thursday at 8 p.m., opening an adult education series sponsored by the education committee of the Immaculate Conception Parish Council. Father Thomas will discuss Christian Education—what it is, why we have it, how do we improve it, etc. The meeting is open to the public.

Kelowna Secondary School students will present their annual Christmas concert Dec. 8 in the Kelowna Community Theatre. Bands, orchestras and choirs will perform during the concert, which begins at 8 p.m.

Will School Board Control Doom Regional Colleges?

Gordon Campbell, the former principal of the new Selkirk College in British Columbia, has levelled a raking blast at his old institution and the B.C. regional college set-up in general, claiming they are doomed if they remain under school board control.

In an interview recently in Vancouver Campbell said that the original concept of Selkirk College is in danger because of the council's lack of understanding and its failure to give service not only to university-bound high school graduates, but also to graduates wanting technical education and to the entire adult population of the community.

But now the threat is that the college is becoming an upward extension of high school, emphasizing preparation for university. The adult classes are now scheduled only for evening times, rather than throughout the day which Mr. Campbell described as a reversion to the 19th century.

A new act should be drawn up to remove the colleges from the Public Schools Act, he stated. "So long as the college remains the school board's baby, then its day is doomed as an imaginative 20th century invention to meet the demands of higher education."

Mr. Campbell, who resigned in November and is now professor of education at the University of Lethbridge, suggested that lack of freedom was the underlying factor in the resignation of several senior personnel at Selkirk—the directors of continuing education, guidance, student affairs, mathematics, physics and electronics and the dean of women.

In a special report recently by Norman Walker, president of the Okanagan Regional College the fact emerges that plebiscite requirements are likely to be the ruin of British Columbia's proposed system of regional colleges.

Referendums are required in participating school districts to approve the formation of a college and also its capital funding. The B.C. Public Schools Act requires a 60 per cent affirmative vote. Okanagan got just over 55 per cent.

Mr. Walker observes that the plebiscite requirements put college councils in a real bind. At a time when they should be devoting their entire attention to planning the college, its courses and staff, they must instead direct their attention to winning votes. The only alternatives would be to hire public relations counsel (and risk accusations of money wasting) or utilize the education staff for the task of public information and convincing school boards and citizens that they should approve the college.

This last alternative, however, is in itself a problem, for it is exceedingly difficult, if not impossible, to hire staff while there is still a very real possibility that the voters will turn them out of a job, the report says.

As an alternative to the present regulations, Mr. Walker suggests that a new kind of regional board be formed to administer not only the regional colleges but to the whole of post-secondary education outside of the universities, including vocational colleges and adult education. Membership could be from school boards, universities, municipal government, the professions, industry and the Academic Board for Higher Education.

The board would have the power to lease or purchase land, buildings and equipment. It would draw its capital and operating finances from provincial and federal funds, student fees and municipal or regional requisitions. The minister of education would have powers of authorization for budget and capital expenditures.

By taking the decision away from direct voter action, by lessening the monetary hold of the school boards and municipalities and by giving the board full authority if direction for its own schools, answerable only to the provincial government, the regional college system can be made to work Mr. Walker states.

Housing Starts

Some interesting figures were published in the report of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation covering the period from January to the end of September. With the exception of the metropolitan areas of Vancouver and Victoria, Kelowna had more housing starts in the nine months than any other place in the province, 317. This figure shaded Prince George by one. The Kelowna figure was an increase from the 183 in the same period last year.

The figures for some other places: Kamloops City 29; North Kamloops 142; Nanaimo 142; Penticton 102; Port Alberni 56; Vernon 128.

In completions for the nine month period, Prince George was away out in front with 902. Kelowna ranked next with 220 followed by Kamloops with 163 and North Kamloops with 138.

Prince George also had more houses under construction as of September 30, 225. This was a major drop from the 960 under construction on the same date a year ago. On the other hand Kelowna's 180 was an increase from the 106 of last year. Prince Rupert had 183 and Nanaimo 144. North Kamloops had 97.

The figures suggest that, while some other places have faltered a little, Kelowna still continues its spectacular but steady and sound growth.

In Passing

Zoologists are worrying over indications that alligators may soon become extinct. If we couldn't dig up something more serious to worry about than that, we'd stop digging.

Compared to the dollar of 1900, the highly inflated dollar of today is an exceedingly poor substitute for money.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

VIEW CONFIRMED

Sir:

"The U.S. policy in Vietnam cannot be justified either morally or strategically," come the words of Cecil R. Bull, Courier letter, Nov. 3.

Almost simultaneously is the appeal of Walter Gordon, president of the Privy Council, that Canadians do all they can to mobilize world opinion against the war in Vietnam.

From this area Mr. Bull thus gives substantial contribution to the ever increasing tempo of spirit against that war.

For, they who have been in this district long enough will know the calibre from which this condemnation has come. They will know the public role Mr. Bull has carried, including a period in the provincial legislature.

But he is more than a politician; more than a "useful citizen"; he has a wider mind, one open and capable of examining serious issues. Vietnam has come to him, as it has to all of us, but he has analysed it and now says what he has found.

That the U.S. is wrong. With no rider of extenuating circumstances to ameliorate this indictment.

Dr. Brock Chisholm, a prophet for our times, has hammered away that we must not think as have our fathers. Obviously, Mr. Bull, in being against "our side of the fence", as he puts it, is in accordance with this dictum.

But, do not let there be a time lag before leaders in other fields join him. Why cannot ye editors, for instance, follow on Gov. Romney and say he has been brainwashed? And the churches. A guest editorial the other weekend derided any preaching other than that of the Gospel.

There will be clergy as with laymen who have not the gift to turn their minds to Vietnam in the way that Mr. Bull has been able to. But if a spark were kindled in a Gospel preacher he would know that implication of the Gospel and we would hear from him. Yours sincerely,

ALEC C. BEASLEY.

VENUS PROBE

Sir:

Referring to your footnote appended to my letter anent the asteroid threat, which you were good enough to publish.

You state that the Russians never claimed that a probe landed on the planet's surface. However, as recently as last Friday, during a broadcast from Moscow commenting on the 50 years since the revolution, the speaker commented on the soft landing.

He mentioned also the remarks of Sir Bernard Lovell, the head of the Jodrell Bank radio telescope. England, who complimented the Russians on their achievement of a soft landing on Venus.

I suppose listening to Russian broadcasts will get me investigated or excommunicated or something, eh?

Yours faithfully,

HARRY B. DICKENS.

EDITOR'S NOTE: No punishment required. On soft landings, the Russian reports were vague. It seems reasonable to assume the probe died on its way into the heat, after transmitting data.

SOMETHING WRONG

Sir:

Regarding your editorial in The Daily Courier of Nov. 1, your reference to remarks by D. C. Fillmore at a recent city council meeting are timely.

You and Fillmore hit the nail on the head—something is wrong with our present city administration system. This fact has been known by taxpayers for a long time. "It is not working as it should, and not working, perhaps, for benefit of the city."

This may also apply to the proposed Kelowna College. As Premier Bennett said to Mayor Parkinson, "Kelowna has driven in the last nail (in the college's coffin)." Our city council and chamber of commerce have tried to tell the government what to do and bow to Kelowna's wishes. Could it be there are a couple of aldermen who are trying to knock everything constructive.

The taxpayers of this city deserve better brains on our city council than they are getting. Kelowna's good name will be mud. We are informed that often council meetings are over in 45 minutes; why not give three hours to thought? Maybe their increased salaries have gone to their heads.

S. MURRAY.

WE'RE A SALAD

Sir:

Expo is Dead! . . . Long live Expo '67! Is the cry of the public relations men, for they are the founding fathers of a new era, and have the backing of a world famous general—to boot.

Who can deny the modernistic cut of The Canadian flag? or the outstanding worth of a Bilingual - Biculturalism Commission? (apart from its cost).

All those non-affluent citizens who did not undertake a pilgrimage to Montreal have been shown a little bit of this polished chalice which contains their French birthright and cost-plus dowry, in order to involve them in its expense.

In spite of this, many articles and letters are constantly flourished in Westerners' faces to back up demands for more French in everything—including salads. A little bit of this and a little bit of that makes a salad, and that's what Canadians are — for sure.

Here, we have 10 provinces; all a good mixture except Quebec; that has too much of a muchness for everyone's taste; so we'll just have to spread it around and around, so that when it's divided up into 10 bowls, it can digest it more comfortably.

It's been mighty hard for new Canadians to learn to speak English (as she is spoke in the West along with all her foreign slang) without having to add another tongue, which would not aid them in their dealings with the majority of Canadians and Americans.

Perhaps it would be easier for them (and us) if every tenth word in our English newspapers and magazines were printed in French. . . . Perhaps in time we could have all contracts and laws subject to this same ruling. I bet it would be a lot of fun . . . reading, I mean. To heck with living . . . everyone's out for fun . . . aren't they?

If not, think of the educational value and spiritual uplift, if street names were changed around so that Glenmore Street was changed to St. Glenmore and all other streets had Saint put before them. We'd have instant culture.

I know that this measure is not at all necessary for those fortunate individuals who graduated from high school or university, but for the great majority who have neither social, cultural or financial background, it would be a decided asset in learning to read the labels on our canned foods and dangerous products.

This trend could become immensely popular for it would open up a rich world of ancient culture to us western peasants. We could read those spicy French novels . . . Drive fast French cars . . . Belong to honorable French unions . . . Buy cheap French appliances . . . Find timely French conveniences on every street corner and marry faster, better-painted French ladies.

In fact with enough pressure from the right quarters, we could eradicate the fear of becoming Americans, for they would see our many advantages and rapidly follow our lead, and come in time to see the whole North American Continent under the banner of an Abstract Frog sitting on a Red Maple Leaf . . . or a big nose.

Nothing is impossible in this era of the Blabbermouth and spacecraft, for mankind's unfettered imagination is now recognized as the greatest natural resource throughout our space. All we need to put our thoughts into action are more words and actions. Actions such as the French people use to give more expression to their words. These contortions and gesticulations we could well use to further our own progress in this highly competitive world. (Especially if we had a knife in one hand and a gun in the other.) Don't forget, French was the official language of England some 900 years ago. That was after 'Arold got an 'arner in 'is eye at the Battle of Astings.

Funny how I've noticed many of our politicians have twitches in their eyes of late. Specially that feller Sharp. Looks like he's gonna live up to his name and make us pay for them there monkeyshines back east.

U.K. 'Up In Air' With New Train

LONDON (Reuters) — British engineers hope to revolutionize the railway with the development of a "hovertrain" riding on a cushion of air at speeds of up to 300 miles an hour.

Work is to start soon on a 20 mile concrete test track across swampland near Cambridge, 50 miles north of London.

The test will be financed from £2,000,000 the ministry of technology agreed to spend on an evaluation of the future of hovertrains in Britain and overseas by the National Research Development Corp., set up by the government to boost British inventions.

The first test vehicle will be a bullet-shaped coach 60 feet long and 10 feet wide. It will run along a four-foot-high track.

Engineers hope to have it running within 2½ years. A production model could be ready by the early 1970s if the government approved.

The vehicle will be powered by a new linear in propulsion—a linear induction motor that will draw the train along a continuous aluminium rotor-rail in the middle of the T-shaped track by magnetic fields.

Colored Sweat Not Too Common

By DR. JOSEPH B. MOLNER

Dear Dr. Molner: My bed linen and underclothes are stained with my perspiration which seems to be a dark yellow. Could this be caused from hot flashes? I am 52 and menopause started some time ago. —R.U.

Except that the hot flashes cause profuse perspiration, there is no reason to think this condition has anything to do with menopause.

Colored sweat is not a common condition. Production of yellow perspiration is very rare (the condition is called chromidrosis). There are specialized sweat glands, as in the armpits and elsewhere, which may produce a yellowish or dark colored material.

The exact cause of the yellowness is not known. It may be the result of bacterial action on the skin. It is possible also that certain medications may be a factor — have you reported this to your doctor, and are you taking any medications that he does not know about?

Still, the more likely explanation is something on the surface of the skin which alters the color chemically. It is possible that some deodorant is involved, or even dye in your clothing.

There is, you see, no simple answer, but there are some possibilities which you can pursue.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is chronic cholecystitis and what causes it? Is it curable? How long can you live with it? Does it cause other illnesses? —E.E.B.

Chronic cholecystitis is chronic inflammation of the gall bladder.

Causes? Several. We think of gall stones first, since they can incite great irritation, but infection and formation of gas under some circumstances can cause distress, too. (Infection also tends to bring on gall stones, and vice versa.)

Cure for a chronically inflamed gall bladder usually is surgery — removal of the gall bladder. How long you can live with a chronically ailing gall bladder is impossible to say. Some folks tolerate mild irritation for years, but usually regret it eventually.

If chronic inflammation flares into an acute attack, there may be no choice but to remove the gall bladder.

Yes, the chronic condition can cause other illnesses: Digestive troubles, sometimes liver disturbances, and sometimes the continued irritation precedes cancer, so there is good reason for not taking chances.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have a friend whose rather quiet 5-year-old boy awakens at night and cries for half an hour or so because of pain in his knees and, more recently his right elbow.

When the child was taken to a doctor, the diagnosis was "growing pains." I thought "growing pains" went out with "marking" sulphur and molasses and the vapors. Please comment. — Mrs. R.M.

Growing never made anyone hurt, and "growing pains" has long since been discarded by pediatricians.

It is not too unusual for an active child after a hard day at play, to have cramps in his legs occasionally at night, but if such pains are repeated, a careful examination of the child is warranted, and not a dismissal as "growing pains."

CANADA'S STORY

Prairie Railroad Caused Battles

By BOB BOWMAN

Railway "wars" are usually confined to rate-cutting among competitors, but there were two railway wars in western Canada that nearly erupted into fighting. One was in Manitoba in 1888 when the provincial government broke the CPR monopoly and built lines of its own. The route from Winnipeg to Portage La Prairie had to cross the CPR tracks, and the CPR objected, strongly.

As the government track-layers got close to the transcontinental line, the CPR posted special constables to stop them. The government then recruited its own constables and sent them out from Winnipeg. Fighting seemed to be inevitable. Fortunately the government track-layers did not get to the proposed crossing before stopping work for the night, and an agreement was made before morning to refer the dispute to the Supreme Court which ruled in favor of the government. The episode became known as "the battle of Fort Whyte."

A somewhat similar situation took place in Edmonton on Nov. 8, 1902. The CPR had completed its branch line from Calgary in 1891, but it stopped at Strathcona, across the river, because there was no bridge. Edmonton finally got a bridge in 1902 and proposed to join the Edmonton, Yukon and Pacific Railway to the CPR tracks to Calgary.

Both the CPR and Strathcona strongly opposed to the plan and threatened to have the members of the construction gang put in jail when they showed up to install the necessary switch. A CPR engine was kept running up and down the tracks to prevent them from working while Edmonton and Strathcona supporters lined up on opposite sides of the railway, ready to fight.

W. J. Pace was in charge of the Edmonton, Yukon and Pacific Railway gang and devised a clever plan to win the battle. He withdrew his men and hid them in some nearby bushes. At 5:20 p.m. the CPR engine blocking the line had to go to the roundhouse to allow the train for Calgary to get through.

The moment it passed, Pace blew a whistle and his workers rushed from the bushes and began tearing up the tracks, protected by Edmonton patriots. They installed a switch before the CPR engine could get back from the roundhouse. Evidently it was allowed to remain although the rivalry between Edmonton and Strathcona continued for a number of years.

OTHER EVENTS ON NOV. 8:

1603 De Monts got royal commission to colonize Acadia.

1631 Cape Breton was given Sir Robert Gordon and son Robert to form the Province of New Galloway.

1901 Sir Charles G. D. Robinson, 1st Baronet, an Anglo-Irish from British ship "Trent" and nearly caused war in which Canada would have been attacked.

1913 Prime Minister Borden left Canada to attend peace conference in Paris.

Vicount Jellicoe arrived for visit. The Prince of Wales was also in Canada.

Geen-Guest Wedding Held In Kelowna First United

Baskets of white chrysanthemums decorated the First United Church of Kelowna, and tulle rosettes centered the bronze mums marked the pews ends, on October 28 at 2 p.m. when Joan Ardith Guest became the bride of Mervyn Lawrence Geen.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Christian Guest of Kelowna, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Austin Geen of Rutland. Rev. Elliott Birdsell officiated at the double-ring ceremony and the soloist, Gwen Harding sang "The Lord's Prayer, and O Perfect Love, accompanied by Ethel Gray at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of silk organza over tulle, fashioned on empire lines and falling gracefully into a chapel length train at back. The bodice and sleeves were encrusted with seed pearls which also enhanced the Alencon lace appliques on the front of the gown and the train. A knee-length French lace mantilla formed her headress, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis on a white prayer book.

For something old the bride wore her grandmother's diamond and emerald ring; something borrowed was the white prayer book which had been carried by her great aunt and her mother; something blue was her garter, and she wore a penny in her shoe.

Miss Dorene Guest was her sister's maid of honor, the bridesmaids were Miss Pat Vasseur of Vancouver and Miss Bev Fenton of Clinton, and the charming little flower girl was Kathy Bullock of Kelowna. The four attendants wore similar long dresses of Chinese jade peau d'elegance, styled on Empire lines with short trains. Their headresses were double petal bows, they wore matching shoes, and carried bouquets of white carnations.

Acting as best man was Dr. David Geen and the ushers were Glen Wood of Prince George and Rocky Wostrowski of Kelowna.

At the reception, held at the Matador Inn, the mother of the bride received wearing a gown of Persian plum brocade with a smart matching hat and a corsage of gardenia. The groom's mother, who assisted her in receiving the guests, chose a blossom pink Italian double-knit imported model with a matching hat and accessories, and she also wore a white gardenia corsage.

Walter Hall of Okanagan Mission proposed the toast to the bride, which was ably answered by the groom, and the best man gave the toast to the bridesmaids.

Centering the bride's table was a lovely three tiered wedding cake made by the bride's mother and topped with a miniature bride and groom. The cake was decorated with black patent accessories and a corsage of tangerine carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Geen will reside at 1922 Pandosy St., Kelowna.

ANN LANDERS

Let Grandma Know You Are On To Her

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 14-year-old girl who needs advice from an older person. The problem is my grandmother. I am staying with her for a month because my folks had to go to another city on business.

I always thought Grandma was the greatest until last week. This is what happened: Grandma works in a hospital. I noticed that whenever she came home from work she always took her shopping bag to the back of the house. She did it in a way that made me think she was hiding something. Yesterday the phone rang just as Grandma was coming in. She said, "I'll answer it," and put her shopping bag on the chair. I couldn't help seeing what was in it. Grandma has been taking bed sheets, pillowcases, washcloths, soap and all sorts of odds and ends from the hospital. Now I know why she gives me a three piece wool suit of camel hair accented with black patent accessories and a corsage of tangerine carnations.

To travel on her honeymoon to Portland and down the Oregon Coast the bride changed to a three piece wool suit of camel hair accented with black patent accessories and a corsage of tangerine carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Geen will reside at 1922 Pandosy St., Kelowna.

nant, dragging their bundles, and sometimes a child or two. Where are the husbands? At the ball game or drinking beer in front of the TV. He made it sound pretty grim, Ann, and I'm sure he was speaking for many women across the land. But he wasn't speaking for ME.

My husband offered to buy me an automatic washer three times last year but I said no. Going to the coin laundry is my only chance to get out of the house alone.

Two evenings a week my husband does the supper dishes and puts the kids to bed. I take my knitting and a good book and off I go to the coin laundry. It's the most relaxing part of my whole week. I wouldn't give it up for anything. — K.C. ANN FANN.

Dear K. C.: Thanks for writing. Your letter is proof that nobody can speak for everybody.

Dear Ann Landers: I am interested in the letter from the man who operates the coin laundry. He said it was a disgrace the way women come in after supper, weary, often pregnant.

Women Seek Community Talent For Peachland Christmas Party

The first meeting of the Peachland community Christmas tree committee was held last week at the home of secretary Mrs. E. Sutherland, Vernon Avenue. Representatives from four local organizations were present. The committee decided to hold the concert this year in the Athletic Hall, Dec. 22. Each member of the committee was asked to seek out specific sources of talent in the community and report to a future meeting to be held at the Sutherland home Nov. 7.

Peachland's reeve Harold Thwaite and Mrs. Thwaite drove to Kamloops Saturday to represent Peachland at the amalgamation meeting of Kamloops and North Kamloops. While in Kamloops they attended the first council meeting and enjoyed the social events scheduled for the evening.

Autumn Is Season To Enjoy Those Crackling B.C. Apples

Did you know that the fruit that tempted Eve to take what proved to be a "fatal" bite was an apple? And as we all well know, the lure of the king of fruits has never failed to entice.

And this time of year, autumn, a crisp and crackling time, is apple time. It is wonderful that you are able to go to the fresh fruit section of your favorite food store and select any one of several favorite varieties of luscious B.C. apples. B.C. apples are available in a variety of package sizes to suit every need and budget. In addition to the variety of packages the B.C. fruit growers also make available to you, economical grades of apples that will suit every budget.

Currently available for your apple enjoyment is everyone's favorite, the B.C. McIntosh Red. This nationally famous apple has a distinctive aroma and delicious "tangy" flavour all its own. B.C. McIntosh apples are available in the ever popular Handi-Pak carton, a box developed by the B.C. fruit growers to give you beautiful quantities of apples at truly harvest-time prices. They are also available in four-pound bags, and four-quart baskets.

Another favorite apple now at your store is the B.C. Red Spartan. This delicious apple with an unusually small core, was developed by crossing the McIntosh and Newtown apples resulting in an excellent all-purpose apple with a distinctive sweet flavour all its own. It too is available in a variety of packages sizes and grades. Don't forget famous Delicious apples are available, too. B.C. Red Delicious and Golden Delicious apples are in every package size and grade that you could imagine. These apples are characterized by the distinctive five "bumps" at the smaller end, so you can't miss them. Make sure you have your family munching an apple or two to help supply valuable vitamins and minerals so badly needed during the long winter ahead.

sugar and water. Peel and core apples and cut them into quarters or thick slices. Poach fruit gently in the syrup, basting occasionally or turning carefully until it is just tender. Drain fruit and let it cool.

Step 2:
2 cups flour
1/4 cup sugar
4 tps. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
Pinch nutmeg
1/2 cup cold butter
1 egg, well beaten
1/4 cup milk
Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder, salt and nutmeg. With pastry blender or two knives, cut in cold butter until mixture is consistency of cornmeal. Add well beaten egg and milk. Stir quickly with fork until dough is just blended. Spread dough on heavy iron skillet or nine-inch baking pan, well buttered. Bake the cake in very hot oven (450 degrees F.) for about 15 minutes or until browned and crisp. Split the shortcake and butter each half generously. Spread a thick layer of the cooled apples on the bottom half of the cake, turn the top half onto the apples, and serve at once, with lemon sauce or melted butter.

HOT LEMON SAUCE
1/2 cup sugar
1 tsp. cornstarch
1 tsp. grated lemon rind
1 cup cold water
2 tps. cold butter
2 tps. strained lemon juice

Molsons Flex Muscles For Kelowna Duel Today

Kelowna hockey fans will get their first look at the 1967 edition of the Kelowna Molsons, who tangle with the Vernon Blades in an Okanagan Mainline intermediate A hockey league game today.

This will be the second start of the season for the Kelowna squad, their season opener in Kamloops was a losing effort in a close game with a final score of 3-2.

Once again former pro-hockey star Wayne North is at the helm in the role of playing coach, and he has put together what looks like a team with a good deal of depth.

A mixture of rookies and seasoned veterans make up the Kelowna club, with many players being quite familiar to followers of past hockey wars in the Valley.

The latest addition to the team

MARCELLA VERN

is George Boychuck, who spent last season toiling with the Spokane Jets of the WHL. Boychuck is a rugged-hitting type defenceman, and he's likely to make sure the opposing forwards play heads-up hockey.

Along with Boychuck, the blue line patrol consists of former Kelowna Buckaroos Norbert (Knobby) Wilderman, and Doug Chisholm, summer-time softball ace Bob Boyer, and a big rangy newcomer, Charlie Schmidt. The Molsons' nets this season will be guarded by Boris Kabatoff and Don Kennedy. Tonight's starter hasn't been named.

The Molsons have a blend of youthful speed and seasoned experience on their three forward lines. The power line this year is likely to be the combination of Bob Gruber at centre, between Harvey Stolz at left wing and right wing veteran Joe Fisher. Both of Kelowna's goals in their 3-2 loss to Kamloops were scored by Bob Gruber. Another line expected to produce a lot of goals is the sparkling former Buckaroo combination of Marcella Verna at centre, between Terry Kasabuchi and Barry MacPhee. Res. Saunders is pivot man on the third line between veterans Bob Lablanc and Wayne North.

This year each of the three teams in the league (Vernon, Kelowna and Kamloops) play a 20-game schedule, 10 at home and 10 away, with the winner of the Okanagan championship advancing in pursuit of the Coy Cup.

With their impressive looking lineup the Kelowna Molsons are looking for a good sized crowd to lend their support for their home opener in the Kelowna Memorial Arena.

Seals Sought Change In Name And Perhaps In Style Also

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Barry Van Gerbig may have had more than local patrons in mind when he asked the National Hockey League office for permission to change the name of California Seals to Oakland Seals.

The owner of the expansion team in the NHL may also have been hoping to break a string of ill fortune that has generally dogged his team through the early part of the schedule.

In 13 games this season, the Seals have managed wins in only their first two games, going winless in the last 11.

They've managed to produce 29 goals—but have allowed more than their share—40—as they continue to drop deeper into the cellar of the six-team expansion division.

Their luck was not any better Tuesday when they blew a 3-0 second period lead before 5,164 at home fans and lost 5-4 to division-leading Los Angeles Kings.

The Seals outshot the Kings 32-28, but succumbed when Ed Joyal and Brian Smith beat goalie Charlie Hodge late in the third period.

The other Los Angeles goals went to Terry Gray, Gord LaBassiere and Bill White while George Swarbrick and Mike Laughton beat Los Angeles goalie Wayne Rutledge in the first period and Alain Caron opened the second with their third goal.

Only the Kings have allowed more goals—41—in the division while the Seals are third in scoring behind the 41 goals scored by Los Angeles and the 31 by Pittsburgh Penguins.

To make matters even worse, tonight they have to play host to Toronto Maple Leafs, tied for first place in the veteran Eastern Division with New York Rangers.

The Rangers are at home to Boston Bruins, Montreal Canadiens are at Chicago, Philadelphia Flyers are at Pittsburgh and St. Louis Blues are at Minnesota in other games today.

Thursday the Leafs are in Los Angeles while Pittsburgh is at Detroit.

Bower Has A Birthday In Sun But He Won't Say Which One

TORONTO (CP)—There'll be a difference when goaltender Johnny Bower celebrates his birthday in sunny California today.

He won't be there to escape the dreary Canadian weather and no one will know which birthday he's celebrating. It is only certain that he's under 50.

The National Hockey League has his birth date listed as Nov. 8, 1924, which will make him 43 today.

"I'll be 44," Bower says. Many think, but no one is certain, that he might never see 45 again.

"I'm a young man—a young 44," Bower says. "I've lied about my age so many times that I'm not really sure of it now myself."

Bower will probably celebrate the birthday by playing for Toronto Maple Leafs against Oakland Seals tonight.

"I told the guy a long time ago to throw away his birth certificate," says Toronto coach Punch Imlach. "Who cares how old he is when he's that great?"

REFLEXES STILL SHARP
But even Imlach admits that Bower's reflexes, still razor sharp, could go suddenly.

"He could just skate out there one day for practice and be an old man," Imlach says.

Strangely enough, Bower does not look like an old man or even a middle-aged man. His face, despite the scars of his trade, is pink and unlined. There is no tell-tale grey in his full head of brown hair.

He's a stocky five-foot-11 and 190 pounds without one ounce of loose flesh on a body that resembles that of a college gymnast.

His hands are like hams, calloused as a birch plank on the palms and without the tell-tale age wrinkles across the back or wrists. Many say his secret is hard work. Bower practices every day. He goes through regular practice with the club and winds it up by working himself into a lather on his own.

His windup exercise is simple. He skates as hard as he can from one side of the ice to the other 20 or 30 times in full dress, carrying his heavy goaltender's stick.

RUMOR HE WAS TIRING
Earlier this season rumors filtered through the hockey world that Bower might finally be succumbing to old age. He appeared weak on a number of long shots—a hint that his eyes might be tiring.

Bower came up with a new practice. The entire Toronto club lined up outside the blue line and shot at him from long range. The next game was against Montreal Canadiens and he shut them out.

John William Bower suffers more when the Leafs lose than any member of the club—even when he hasn't played.

David, Chi Chi Happy Fellahs And Form Redoubtable Team

MEXICO CITY (AP)—David Jimenez and Chi Chi Rodriguez of Puerto Rico form one of the strongest—and happiest—teams in the World Cup golf tournament that starts Thursday.

They came to Mexico to win. But no matter what their final score they figure to have more fun than anyone else on the 7,500-yard Club de Golf Mexico course.

Rodriguez and Jimenez will be among 80 golfers—including Canadians George Knudson and Al Balding—when play opens in the 72-hole tournament for national pride and personal prestige. Entries come from 36 countries.

The Puerto Ricans had their first practice round on the narrow, hazard-filled course Tuesday and only a few of the 80 or so members of their gallery abandoned them when word came that Jack Nicklaus of the United States had started his practice round.

Rodriguez and Jimenez traded banter between themselves and with spectators as they visited the practice tee before setting out for a quick nine holes.

"Watch this one go out of the park," the 130-pound Rodriguez said as he took aim at a 50-foot fence at the far side of the practice tee. "See if you can match it," he told Jimenez.

The ball did clear the fence, as did three of Jimenez' drives. "I can't keep this up," the younger Puerto Rican said. "Balls cost too much."

"You've been on the tour five years and now you're rich," he told Rodriguez.

Rodriguez said he expects the toughest team competition to come from Americans Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer and South Africa's Gary Player and Harold Henning. He predicted a 277 total, 11-under-par, should win individual honors, won last year in Japan by Knudson.

UCLA's Second Top Scorer Also Handy With Javelin

LOS ANGELES (AP)—This may be difficult to equate, but the second leading scorer for the UCLA football team, just behind star quarterback Gary Beban, is a javelin thrower from Canada who until this season never played in a football game.

He is Zenon Andrusyshyn, a strong, strapping, 6-foot, 205-pound, sophomore, whose soccer-style kicking has been a vital factor in the Bruins' unbeaten, once-tied record this fall.

Big Z, which is easier to spell than his surname, has kicked 11 field goals, the longest 52 yards, and succeeded on 21 of 23 conversions, all for 54 points.

Beban's 10 touchdowns give him 60 points.

VERSATILE KICKER
In addition to place kicking, Zenon, from Oakville, Ont., has developed into a great punter. In 19 punts, he is averaging 44.36—and he is a dangerous punter.

Dangerous? Yes, because sometimes neither Zenon nor the enemy receivers can foretell exactly which direction the ball will take nor which direction it'll bounce.

Last Saturday Andrusyshyn kicked three field goals from 52—a school record, 33 and 26 yards, and his four punts averaged 47.7. One punt traveled 54, another took a funny bounce and rolled 61 yards.

Andrusyshyn came to UCLA on a track scholarship, acclaimed as Canada's finest javelin thrower.

He had played soccer since age seven in Oakville. Last spring at UCLA, nursing a sore elbow which kept him out of track, Zenon's curiosity was drawn to UCLA place kickers in practice.

He wasn't impressed; he gave it a try, and was disappointed that he couldn't kick too well from 40-45 yards.

Then he discovered these pointers.

SUDDEN-DEATH SUNDAY

Argos Could Be Spiked

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto Argonauts may be going into Sunday's sudden-death Eastern Football Conference semi-final against Ottawa Rough Riders with most of their guns spiked.

They started the season as a passing team behind the intricate formations designed by coach Leo Cahill and under the guidance of quarterback Wally Gabler.

But by the end of the 14-game campaign during which they won their first playoff berth in five years, the Argos had become the best rushing club in the four-team league with 2,171 yards to their credit.

This wasn't much more than 2,016 yards run up by Ottawa, but it was a strong indication that they finally had found the running combination a series of coaches have been searching for over several years.

PASSING FADES
Toward the end of the season, Gabler unexpectedly lost the range of his receivers—a circumstance that neither he nor Cahill have been able to explain—and the running game became even more important than before.

Then, when it was most needed, the running game came down with a severe case of the limps.

Fullback Jim Dillard injured and re-injured an already wobbly knee, fullback Joe Williams and halfback Bill Symons suffered severely bruised ribs and Gabler came up with badly bruised ribs in the final scheduled game against Hamilton Tiger-Cats Sunday.

Canucks Crack Winless Streak

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Canucks of the Western Hockey League broke a winless streak at 10 games Tuesday night as they edged Buffalo Bisons of the American League 6-4 in an interlocking game before 2,827 fans.

The victory was only the second of the season for Vancouver and the first against AHL competition.

Following a 2-2 deadlock in the first period, the Canucks scored two unanswered goals in the second and then divided four goals with the Bisons in the final period.

Phil Maloney, Gord Vejprava, Larry Popein, Tom Thurlby, Stan Gilbertson and Bruce Carmichael scored for Vancouver. Terry Clancey, Guy Trotter, Gerry Oulette and Bill Knibbs replied for Buffalo.

CALGARY COMBINATION LEADS WAY

A Season For Records

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The word is records and the names are Liske, Evanshen and Reed with release today of final Western Football Conference statistics.

Quarterback Peter Liske and split end Terry Evanshen are the passing and receiving punch that carried Calgary Stampede to first place in the conference and fullback George Reed is the running power that took Saskatchewan Roughriders to a tie on points with Calgary.

The Stampede won the bye into the conference playoff final by beating Saskatchewan in two of three meetings although both recorded 12-4 won-lost records on the season.

Reed assembled perhaps the most impressive record by becoming the first player in Canadian Football League history to carry the ball more than 300 times in one season.

He rushed for 1,471 yards and scored 18 touchdowns for second place in conference scoring with 9 points, 12 fewer than Evanshen made on 17 touchdown receptions.

302 CARRIES
But the 302 carries by the Washington State grad makes him second only to the all-pro record of 305 carries by Jimmy Brown of Cleveland Browns of the National League in 1961. Evanshen, a Montreal native who attended Utah State, equaled the all-pro record shared by Hugh Campbell of Saskatchewan, Don Hutson of Green Bay Packers, Elroy Hirsch of Los Angeles Rams and Bill Groman of Houston Oilers.

The 96 passes he caught eclipsed the CFL record of

... running lower

taken by Hal Patterson for Montreal Alouettes in 1956 and is third only to the 101 taken by Charley Hennigan of Houston in 1964 and 100 by Lionel Taylor of Denver Broncos in 1961.

But Liske, the 25-year-old Penn State grad who wasn't considered good enough for Toronto Argonauts of the Eastern Conference, developed to be come the best passer in Canadian and U.S. history.

Of 509 passes he completed 303 for 40 touchdowns—all all-pro records—for 4,479 yards and a completion average of .506.

Jack Abendschan of Saskatchewan was third in scoring with 89 points, but his 17 field goals were good enough only to tie Peter Kempf of Edmonton Eskimos for the lead in that division and his 33 conversions were second to the 37 kicked by Bob Goods of Calgary.

Jim Furlong of Calgary had the best punting average—44.5 yards—and Dick Dupuis of Calgary the best punt return average—eight yards. Al Ford of Saskatchewan led kickoff return men with a 26.2-yard average.

Scoring leaders: C-Calgary; S-Saskatchewan; E-Edmonton; B.C.-British Columbia; W-Winnipeg.

It May Take Some Time Yet To Sort Out Offshore Rights

OTTAWA (CP) — While all provinces except Saskatchewan and Alberta are involved in the dispute with Ottawa over jurisdiction of off-shore mineral rights, the Atlantic provinces have the biggest stake as far as gas and oil are concerned.

It may take some time to sort out the results of Tuesday's unanimous opinion by the Supreme Court of Canada that natural resources under the territorial sea and on the continental shelf off the West Coast are federal property.

Of the 220,000 acres covered by exploration leases granted by the federal government, 148,000 are off the East Coast, including the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Hudson Bay leases have been issued for 54,000 acres while Pacific Coast leases — concentrated off the southwest corner of Vancouver Island — account for 18,000 acres.

A total of 32 federal permits have been issued, but many involve joint ventures by two or more oil companies.

Most companies protected themselves by applying for both federal and provincial permits but a federal government spokesman said Tuesday that in some regions there could be a serious conflict. He would not name the areas or the companies involved.

Despite the large number of permits, there has been little actual drilling so far. Most exploration programs are in early stages, involving bottom sampling and seismic studies to determine rock structures under water.

Three wells have been drilled in the East, two in the West and one on the shore of Hudson Bay — in Manitoba near the Ontario border.

Two of the Eastern wells, on the Grand Banks off Newfoundland, were drilled last year in a joint venture by Pan-American Petroleum Corp., and Imperial Oil of Canada. A third was drilled this year at Sable Island by Mobil Oil of Canada.

In the West, both wells were drilled this year as part of a two-year 16,000,000 program by Shell Canada Ltd.

Five companies are involved in H. H. S. on Bay exploration which is regarded as a long-term venture because of technical problems involving ice during the winter.

NO STRIKES YET
Oil companies have spent an estimated $45,000,000 in offshore exploration since 1961, but have yet to announce any strike.

Mobil announced it had some showings in the Sable Island test well, but not in commercial quantities.

But seismic studies of the continental shelf under the Atlantic show promise of gas- and oil-bearing rock formations and leases have been granted over a 2,000-mile stretch running from Yarmouth, N.S. to Newfoundland and up the coast of Labrador and Quebec to Ungava Bay.

Most of the Yarmouth-Newfoundland area already has been taken up in permits but there are gaps in the section running to Ungava Bay.

"The northern sections could go fast if anyone makes a strike," one source said.

New Era In Communications Opened With Montreal System

MONTREAL (CP) — A communications system that will allow corporation executives to sit and chat together from several cities or transmit computer data at incredible speeds was inaugurated Tuesday night by Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Telecommunications.

Called the Broadband Exchange Service, it now is capable of transmitting data at a top speed of 3,000 words a minute and some day will work at as many as 51,000 words a minute over an "aerial superhighway" of microwave bands.

As simultaneous ceremonies were held at centres across Canada, CNR President Norman MacMillan and CP President Ian Sinclair pressed a button to start what they described as "a system more for the future than the present."

CNT-CPT sales manager Jim McDaniels told a crowd of several hundred corporation officials and prospective customers that the Broadband system is "the first of its kind in Canada and the second in the world."

Using microwave bands plus telephone, teletype and other business transmitting and receiving equipment, Broadband service now in effect between Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver. It is connected into the already-established Western Union broadband network joining several U.S. centres.

Broadband will be connected soon by sub-stations in Edmonton, Calgary, London and Hamilton and may eventually serve European cities through the facilities of the Canadian Overseas Telecommunication Corp.

Its $4,000,000 cost was borne equally by CNT and CPT whose experts have been at work on the system for three years.

The new system can transmit voice, pictures, charts, written information and computer data and is expected to attract big business customers who regularly exchange quantities of information between offices in different cities.

A CNR spokesman said CNT-CPT hope to have 5,000 customers in five years.

Initial cost of renting space on the microwave network will be $100 a month and transmission costs at first will be 10 cents for a one-minute transmission between Montreal and Toronto and 50 cents for one minute from Toronto to Vancouver.

Both telecommunications companies and the RCMP already have been using the system on an experimental basis.

Mr. Sinclair said the day may come when publishers will use Broadband to transmit the contents of entire newspapers, enabling them to publish simultaneously in several different cities.

Customers all over the continent would be able to draw for information on "computerized data libraries" through Broadband facilities, he said.

Canada Has Great Potential To Aid Developing Nations

TORONTO (CP) — Canada has great potential to help finance and manage industrial enterprises in developing countries, the executive vice-president of the International Finance Corp. said Tuesday.

Martin M. Rosen told an international development seminar sponsored by York University that Canada's potential lies not only in terms of money and materials, but in talent and outlook.

Mr. Rosen said the building of basic facilities such as hydro, transportation, harbors and irrigation has gone far enough and the time is ripe for increased private investment in developing countries.

"It is possible for Canada to have, at one and the same time, the confidence of the capital importing countries and the capital importing countries, because each group feels that Canada is at one with it. At the present time, there may be no other country with such an advantage."

IFC is the member of the World Bank group concerned with channelling private capital to the developing countries. Since 1956, the corporation has participated as a partner with local and developed country investors in financing projects with total capital costs of $1,000,000,000. IFC has supplied $148,000,000 of the capital.

The projects have been chiefly in chemicals and chemical products, including fertilizers, iron and steel basic industries, paper and paper products, cement, machinery and transportation equipment, textiles and food processing. There has been little participation by Canadian companies in these ventures.

DAMAGE OPERATIONS
Paul Leman, executive vice-president of Aluminum Co. of Canada Ltd., told the seminar that the competitive position of Canadian companies with international operations would be damaged if recommendations of the Carter royal commission on taxation are adopted.

Mr. Leman said an unfavourable tax load would be placed on upon the corporations, capital would be more difficult to raise and mobility of senior personnel would be inhibited.

The Carter system is too insular for Canada, Mr. Leman said. It tries to fit external relations into a logical and closely-knit domestic tax plan.

Maintenance of the competitive position of enterprises with international operations is more important than domestic equity in taxation, he said.

Sinking's Toll Could Be 89
MANILA (AP) — The owner of the inter-island passenger ship Mindoro, which sank during Typhoon Emma last week-end, said today 25 persons are known dead and 54 are still missing.

A company spokesman said a rescue ship radioed that it picked up 136 survivors.

Little is known about the actual sinking.

"The captain was not even able to radio a distress signal," the line's spokesman said.

Planet's Route To Miss Earth
LONDON (AP) — The million planet Venus approaches earth next June 15 on what scientists once feared would be a collision course.

But the British government said Tuesday it will be a miss by 4,000,000 miles.

"No collision, nor any near approach in any but the astronomical sense will occur," said a spokesman for Britain's Science Research Council.

The council said it was interested for this information to the Institute of Theoretical Astronomy in Cambridge, recognized international centre for the collection of information about Venus.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New Yorkers voted overwhelmingly Tuesday against a new state constitution that would have abolished a ban on public aid to private and parochial schools. They soundly approved Republican Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller's $2,500,000,000 transportation bond issue—biggest state bond issue in U.S. history. It promises more subways in New York City, more highways upstate and more airports everywhere. With 12,089 of the state's 13,416 voting districts reported, the vote was 1,717,172 for the constitution and 2,897,116 against. On the transportation bonds, the vote in 12,314 districts was 2,525,116 for and 1,731,388 against. In the wake of his electoral success, Rockefeller said he would move immediately on his transport plan, which calls for an outlay of $1,250,000,000 for highways, $1,000,000,000 for subway, commuter railway and bus-line improvements and $250,000,000 for airport expansion.

AWU To Strike
Soon 'Unless...'

DETROIT (AP) — Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers union, said today if agreement on a new contract is not reached with Chrysler Corp. by midnight today there "definitely will be a national strike." "We will not make an extension," Reuther told reporters as he emerged from a 14-hour bargaining session, the longest since Reuther signalled the start of showdown bargaining by joint talks Saturday. Reuther and John Leary, chief negotiator for the No. 3 auto-maker, said some progress had been made in fitting the recent settlement at Ford Motor Co. to the more complex Chrysler situation. But Reuther said there had been "no movement at all" on resolving one of the central issues—wage parity for Canadian auto workers. Reuther emphasized, however, that the parity question was only one of several issues that made rewriting the Ford pact difficult, although Chrysler has agreed in principle to most of its provisions which raised by roughly $1 an hour the average Ford worker's $4.70 in wages and benefits.

Trail Sewer
Still Problem

TRAIL (CP) — The Department of Highways said Tuesday that unforeseen major technical difficulties had caused a delay in repairs to a sewage pipe that has been dumping 50,000 gallons of sewage a day into a Trail creek. The department said grade construction on the road is rapidly approaching the time when the sewer main can be replaced. It also said disconnection of the sewage will be attempted immediately. A department spokesman made the remarks during a meeting with the B.C. Pollution Control Board and the West Kootenay Health Unit. Earlier, Dr. Nick Schmitt, medical health officer, said the pollution could result in "serious health problems" if not stopped at any time.

Taxes Seen As No Answer

EDMONTON (CP) — An increase in personal and corporate income taxes would be the wrong medicine for the Canadian economy, R. A. Engholm, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, said Tuesday. He said restraint by all levels of government, management and labor would be better.

SUGGESTS CHANGE

EDMONTON (CP) — President J. E. Burns of the All-Canada Insurance Federation has suggested automobile insurers should be allowed to sit on an impartial driver review board. He said insurance companies only want the judicial use of simple criteria that will emerge if members of such a board ask themselves if they want to share the road with the driver under review.

CONVENTION SET

WINNIPEG (CP) — About 475 voting delegates are expected at the Nov. 25 convention here to select a new Manitoba Progressive Conservative leader, a post that carries with it the premiership of the province. Details of the convention program were announced Tuesday by party president G. Campbell Maclean, who will be chairman.

SUGGESTS AWARDS

EDMONTON (CP) — Gov.-Gen. Michener said Tuesday the conferring of distinctly Canadian honors on deserving citizens can be an important unifying force in Canada. He said "it seems to me that the Order of Canada should add to our sense of togetherness."

MEN BUY LUXURY

WINNIPEG (CP) — Research shows women spend 80 per cent of the family's money, but it is the allocated money used to keep the household going, R. J. Hobbs, vice-president of the Canadian Tire Corp., said Tuesday. He said the man controls the unallocated money — which goes for luxury goods.

Rhodesia Passes Race Bill

SALISBURY (Reuters) — The government forced a race discrimination bill through Parliament Tuesday, despite a ruling by the Rhodesian Constitutional Council that it conflicts with the Rhodesian Declaration of Rights.

The bill, described by the only independent white member of Parliament as based on the same doctrine as apartheid (racial separation) would permit local authorities to provide separate public facilities such as parks and swimming pools for different races and enforce segregation at them.

The bill, passed on the eve of a visit to Salisbury by British Commonwealth Secretary George Thomson, received the two-thirds majority needed to override the decision of the council.

Also passed Tuesday by a similar majority was a bill to make anyone found in unauthorized possession of arms liable to the death penalty.

The Ian Smith government unilaterally declared its independence from Britain Nov. 11, 1965.

Union Prepares For Court Aid

VANCOUVER (CP) — A fishermen's union spokesman said Tuesday night that $10,000 has been raised to aid the fight against a contempt of court conviction of three union officers earlier this year.

Jack Nichol, business agent for the United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union, made the remark during an address to the Vancouver Labor Council.

He asked all unions for financial support. Mr. Nichol, Tuesday won an appeal against his conviction in a 2-to-1 decision by the B.C. Appeal Court, but two other union officers, President Steve Stavenes and Homer Stavenes, were still in jail.

A lawyer John said there will be an appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Mr. Nichol said lawyers' fees already have amounted to $20,000 and much more is going to be needed to take the appeal to the higher court.

In addition, the union was fined $25,000 following the dispute last March in the Prince Rupert fishing strike. Subsequent comments in Parliament and a union membership vote on whether the injunction should be obeyed led to the contempt convictions.

The three men were each sentenced to one year in jail. Stavenes and Nichol, who had been free on bail with Mr. Nichol, were returned to custody Tuesday pending a new bail application. Although they lost their appeal against conviction, an appeal against sentence is still to be heard.

Red-Head Has Some Male Style In How To Stir U.K. Railways

LONDON (CP)—Britain's state-owned railway system is in for some big changes if a petite redhead with an itch for manly action gets her way.

Mrs. Barbara Castle has much more than female wiles as weapons in her planned sprucing up of British railways, a money-losing but still vital cog in this crowded country's transportation machinery.

She happens to be transport minister in a Labor government that still commands a whopping majority.

Tabbed by one columnist as the most politically potent of female Britons since Queen Elizabeth I, Mrs. Castle held forth in the House Monday about her railway project.

The government will help pay for elimination of surplus tracks but also will back uneconomic passenger services deemed essential to the community.

"Financial discipline" will be enforced inside British railways and administration will be streamlined.

Mrs. Castle is intent on ending by 1971 the organization's annual deficits, which now average more than $300,000,000.

The railway's plight has received extra attention because of a disastrous weekend train crash near the London suburb of Lewisham, which killed 54 people.

Officials say a broken rail joint might have caused the tragedy.

Lately, British railways has slashed its working expenses by about $345,000,000 in a massive move towards modernization. But it also has lost some top managerial talents.

Mrs. Castle's newly announced plan for reform is only one part of an over-all integration program involving road and rail services.

YOUTHFUL DEPARTMENT
She has a band of brilliant young men working for her, giving the transport department a reputation as the brightest, most original ministry in the government.

But much of the basic zest seems to come from the 56-year-old minister herself, tutored in socialism by a left-wing father and married to journalist Ted Castle.

Oct. 3, another of her projects, breath tests for drunk-driving suspects, went into effect.

Opening lead—jack of hearts. It would certainly not be difficult to make six spades if you could see all the cards. All you'd have to do is ruff heart in dummy, take a spade finesse, and thus make twelve tricks.

But in real life the hand is not quite that simple. You don't see the East-West cards, and you might therefore lose a trump trick and go down one.

Problems like this occur all the time. In general, when you are missing four to the queen, the best method of play is to cash the A-K rather than finesse against the queen. Barring special circumstances, that is how you will fare best in most hands.

In the present case, South, in six spades, is faced with the possibility of losing a club and a spade. The question is how to play the hand so as to give himself the best chance of making the contract.

Declarer sees that there is no good reason to play the trumps abnormally and that he will therefore lose a spade trick if it develops that either opponent was dealt three to the queen. His thoughts are consequently directed chiefly to the problem of escaping a club loser.

If he times his plays properly, South can accomplish this goal. His aim is to set up an extra diamond trick in dummy to take care of his club loser. He wins the heart lead with the ace, plays a diamond to the ace and ruffs a diamond.

He then cashes the K-A of spades, learning in the process that East has a trump trick of clubs. It does not matter whether or not East ruffs the diamond—the only trick South loses is a trump.

Now he trumps a heart with the pack and leads the nine of diamonds, discarding the eight of clubs. If East ruffs, whether or not East ruffs the diamond—the only trick South loses is a trump.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it: AXYDLBAAXE is LONGFELLOW. One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW
A good day! Especially favored are business and financial interests, successful negotiations involving long-range ventures. Since the daylight hours will probably be pretty active, make it a point to have some relaxation in the evening. Avoid hectic social affairs.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If tomorrow is your birthday, your outlook for the next year is very promising indeed. Occupational and monetary gains are indicated and, with the exception of a brief period in mid-July, personal relationships will be under beneficent aspects. You are currently in a cycle in which your spirit of enterprise should be at a peak and where, according to the stars, the time has come for pursuing your most ambitious plans—especially those of long-range value. Promised high spots for accomplishment: The period between now and March 31st, next July, September and October.

Well-wishers in job, social and family circles will be of assistance in furthering your interests this year, and there is every indication that before another 12 months have slipped off the calendar, you will find both personal and business affairs in a very sound position. Best periods for romance: The balance of this month, January, May, late June and late July; for travel and enlivening social activities: The period between now and mid-January, next July and August. Do not let a possible change of environment in mid-July cause you any dismay. All signs point to such a change turning out definitely for the better.

A child born on this day will be endowed with the talents required to make a successful business executive, financier or fashion designer.

Variety Of Offices Won By Negroes In Election

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Negroes won a variety of offices in Tuesday's U.S. elections including some historic firsts. Here is a list of Negro winners: Democrat Carl B. Stokes won his battle to become mayor of Cleveland—and the first Negro chief executive of the eighth largest American city.

Democrat Richard G. Hatcher emerged the winner by 1,495 votes in the race for mayor of Gary, Ind.

Dr. W. Ferguson Reid, a surgeon, became the first Negro member of the Virginia state legislature since the reconstruction days following the American Civil war. He is a Democrat.

The Mississippi state legislature also saw its first Negro since the Reconstruction era with the apparent election of Robert Clark, an independent, by the voters of predominantly-Negro Holmes County.

James M. Brady was easily elected sheriff in Charles City County southeast of Richmond, Va., defeating a white incumbent who had held the post 43 years.

Mrs. Iona W. Adkins, a housewife and teacher's aide, won the Charles City County clerk's post by a substantial margin.

William C. Ross Jr., was elected to the school committee in Pittsfield, Mass., and James H. Wynn to the regional school committee in North Adams, Mass. They were both the first Negroes elected to public office in those towns.

In Boston, where the race issue was an often unspoken factor in the mayor's race, Thomas Atkins, 28, a Harvard law school student, was elected to the city council—the first Negro to sit on that body in modern memory.

Municipal Court Judge William Parker was re-elected in Waterloo, Iowa, the site of racial disturbances last summer. In Jacksonville, Fla., three of four Negro candidates won Democratic nominations over whites.

In addition to Clark, six Negroes were elected to county offices in Mississippi, increasing to 24 the number of Negro officeholders in that state. Of the six, two won posts as county supervisors, two as constables and two as justices of the peace.

MERCENARIES FLEE

Congolese Celebrate Victory

By MICHAEL NEALE

CYANGUGU, Rwanda (Reuters) — Jubilant Congolese soldiers today fired their rifles in celebration of the capture Sunday of Bukavu and the flight of white mercenaries and former Katangan gendarmes, eyewitnesses reported here.

Bursts of automatic rifle fire echoed from the eastern Congolese town across Lake Kivu which separates Rwanda and The Congo. Smoke could be seen rising from burning buildings in battle-scarred Bukavu. Congolese officials who crossed into Rwanda said the streets of Bukavu were still piled with corpses of those killed in the week-long fighting that ended Saturday.

About 100 white mercenaries, mostly French and Belgian, and about 2,000 former Katangan gendarmes with their women and children pulled out of Bukavu early Sunday after holding it for three months.

The refugees were taken by truck to two hastily prepared camps about 10 miles from here on a tea plantation in the hills overlooking Lake Kivu.

The plantation is supervised by West Germans.

At first there were no blankets, little food and only one water faucet to serve about 2,500 people, but the International Red Cross and other relief agencies later sent in supplies for the refugees.

Newspaper men were barred from the camp but visitors who spoke with the mercenaries, including their leader, Col. Jean Schramme, described them as haggard and dejected.

But some vowed to return to fight in The Congo, and claimed they could have held Bukavu indefinitely if they had not run out of ammunition.

One report said mercenaries and Katangans ransacked the vaults of two banks in once-prosperous Bukavu.

South Arabian Military Chiefs Say They Now Control Situation

ADEN (Reuters) — South Arabian military chiefs said Tuesday they were in control of the situation here a few hours after aligning themselves with one of the rival nationalist groups involved in savage fighting for the last four days.

"Everything is back to normal," the federal command said in a statement and asked people who fled during the fighting to return to their homes.

More than 100 Arabs were killed and 300 wounded in street fighting between the National Liberation Front and the Egyptian-backed Front for the Liberation of Occupied South Yemen.

The high command statement followed an announcement that it was aligning itself with the NLF.

The command did not say when fighting stopped in Aden. But Arab troops were reinforced during the night in Mansoura, one of the main trouble spots where FLOSY forces besieged federal positions.

The current wave of fighting first broke out between the rival nationalist groups Friday, hours after Britain announced it would grant independence to South Arabia later this month instead of Jan. 9 as planned earlier.

McNamara Orders More Riot Troops

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defence Secretary McNamara has authorized almost 20,000 additional standby troops for the national guard and army reserves "for state missions." An Army spokesman said this means primarily riot-control duties.

LBJ Record Sinks Lower

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two polls find President Johnson's popularity is at a record low.

A poll by Louis Harris, published Monday in the Washington Post, shows Johnson losing to six possible Republican opponents if he were to run against them now.

The Gallup poll, also reported Monday, 38 per cent of those questioned approved of Johnson's actions, 50 per cent disapproved of the way he is handling his job and 12 per cent had no opinion.

The American Institute of Public Opinion, which conducts the Gallup poll, said 40 per cent of those questioned in late August approved of the president's actions and 38 per cent responding in September approved of the president's actions.

The Harris poll said its survey indicated that Johnson would be beaten now by governors Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, George Romney of Michigan and Ronald Reagan of California; New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, Senator Charles H. Percy of Illinois and former vice-president Richard M. Nixon.

Harris reported it is the first time that Nixon has run ahead of Johnson in his poll.

TORONTO (CP)—A recount of votes cast in the Oct. 17 Ontario general election will be held in five ridings, Chief Election Clerk Mary Brand said Tuesday. Decisions are expected later this week.

Ballots will be recounted in: Toronto Downsview where Liberal Vernon Singer was re-elected by 28 votes over Murray Chusid of the New Democratic Party;

Toronto Humber where Liberal George Ben was re-elected by 149 votes over NDP Kenley Cummings;

Ottawa East where Liberal Horace Racine lost his re-election bid by 35 votes to Conservative Jules Morin;

Deadline for requesting a recount was last Saturday.

Ex-SS Man Arrested

MUNICH (Reuters) — A former SS (elite corps) colonel wanted for 22 years for the alleged mass murder of Jews, was arrested in West Germany, the Bavarian justice ministry said today.

He is Paul Zapp, who allegedly headed one of the SS extermination squads which followed Hitler's advancing armies into Russia.

The justice ministry said Zapp was living under a false name.

He was tracked down in Bebra, 75 miles north east of Frankfurt.

Zapp, 63, was accused of ordering killings as head of an extermination squad responsible for murdering at least 6,400 people.

Five of Zapp's alleged associates were charged in March 1966, and pre-trial investigations still are going on.
